They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as stomach them be comes affected, the result of which is suffers from several or more of the following discesses:

Dr. Jackson—Dear Bir. I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined, but with rious instances, my own family, of Hoofiand's German States, and particularly in the use of Dr. man Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, express my full conviction that, for general debitity of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, its a safe and vatuable preparation. In some cases it may fall; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
